Chairman's Message

Over the years, as I roamed through the pages of learning & teaching from USA to Australia, Great Britain to Japan, Russia to India, Cambridge to Harvard-I have seen that Indian Philosophy plays an important role on the aesthetic value of World Education.

At SMI we are formulating and implementing our KG to PG Programmes, at per the same Philosophical concept, to attain a Basic MORAL value through our Educational Curriculum.

The new venture on Graduate & Post-Graduate courses through Punjab Technical University will be maintained on the same Philosophical blending of East & West.

I wish all students, who will be associated with us for PTU courses, the BRIGHTEST and the HIGHEST career in their life.

director's Message

Laughter is the best medicine. It is a great form of communication and you are not wasting time but you are reading it for your health. The contents include not just jokes but literary extracts, snappy quotation, magic moments of many of world's funniest cartoons. Here are some that have been repeatedly buffed up since time immemorial.

1. Doctor : You are coughing more easily this morning.

Patient : I should be. I have been practising all night.

2. Arriving home one evening, a man finds his pregnant wife in labour, so he phones the hospital, "My wife is having contractions and they are only two minutes apart, tell me what I should do! He says frantically, 'Is this her first child?' asked the doctor. 'No you fool', the man shouts, 'This is her husband!'. 'Do you think it will improve his behavior?' the father asks.

3. Little Johny had been a very naughty boy so his father was surprised when his wife suggested they buy him a bicycle.

'No', his wife replied grimly, 'But will spread it over a wider area.'

4. A psychiatrist congratulated his patient on the progress he had made. 'You call this progress?' shrieked the patient, 'six months ago I was Napoleon and now I am nobody.'

5. A father asked his little daughter what she would like for Christmas. She said what she wanted more than any thing else was a baby brother.

The time was perfect, and on Christmas eve her mother came back from the hospital with a baby boy.

The following year, the father again asked his daughter what she would like for Christmas. 'Well' she replied, 'If it is not too uncomfortable for Mummy, I would like a pony this time.'

6. I think thirty is a nice age for a woman especially if she happens to be forty. So the jokes are :-

i) When my wife got to forty I wanted to change her for two twenties.

ii) First woman -

How do you keep your youth?

Second woman-

I lock him in the wardrobe.

iii) A woman bought a whole range of anti-aging cosmetics and spent a whole attention in the bedroom applying cream and proteins to various parts of the body. Then she went down stairs and said to her husband, "Tell me honestly, darling - how old do I look? He replied, 'From your skin - 17, from your hair - 20 and from your figure - 22.

"Ooh, you flatter", She quashed.

'Wait a minute,' he said, 'I have not added them up yet.

7. 'This tooth will be difficult to remove,' the dentist told his patient. 'I think you should have an anesthetic even though it will be a little more expensive. 'Ok' agreed the patient and began feeling in his pocket for his money.

'You need not pay me now', said the dentist. 'I know', replied the patient.

'I am just counting my money before you put me under.

I HOPE THAT YOU HAVE ENJOYED THE JOKES.
